

Towards a sustainable Erasmus+ Mobility in VET

NEWSLETTER Vol. 4: October 2024

Welcome to the final edition of the ENVIRASMUS newsletter! We're excited to share the completed results and highlights of our journey, showcasing all we've accomplished throughout the project.

Our project emphasizes that students and staff traveling abroad should prioritize sustainable choices. From local transportation to dietary preferences and activity selection, we encourage making environmentally conscious decisions during international visits.

Impact Measurement Update

To assess our project's impact, we utilized questionnaires and evaluations before, during, and after mobility experiences, conducting a final report. It was presented to partners at the final meeting.

Digital app LAUNCHED

We're thrilled to announce the release of the ENVIRASMUS app, now available in app stores! This digital tool is designed to make eco-friendly living easier and more accessible. With the ENVIRASMUS app, users can calculate their environmental impact, explore sustainable choices for shopping, dining, and transport, and discover valuable eco-friendly resources across project partner countries: Italy, France, Spain, Slovenia, and Sweden. The interactive map feature guides users toward sustainable options in major cities, helping everyone make greener choices. Download the app today and start exploring the path to sustainability!

Multiplier events

As part of the ENVIRASMUS project, we hosted several multiplier events across partner countries to broaden our impact. These events connected stakeholders, shared project results, and provided hands-on experiences with our new tools, including the ENVIRASMUS app. Through workshops, presentations, and collaborative discussions, we empowered participants to foster sustainable practices within their communities.

Projects Final Conference

On September 18th, we held the final conference for the ENVIRASMUS project, both in-person and online. The event was organized and hosted by Drottning Blankas in Stockholm, attracting 30 in-person and 128 online attendees. Our keynote speaker, Mrs. Kata Nylen, a climate psychologist, provided valuable insights into consequences of climate change, such as climate anxiety. Following her presentation, we showcased the ENVIRASMUS project and conducted a workshop focused on the ENVIRASMUS website and app. The event concluded with a panel discussion.

Project final partners meeting

In our final partners meeting for the ENVIRASMUS project, we took a significant step toward wrapping up our collaborative journey. During this meeting, we presented the final outcomes of the project, showcasing the achievements and impact we've made together.

We also reviewed the last remaining tasks to ensure a smooth project conclusion and discussed the multiplier events that have been implemented. These events have played a crucial role in disseminating our results and engaging stakeholders across partner countries.

SHOWCASING OUR PROJECT ACROSS EUROPE: THREE PRESTIGIOUS INVITATIONS TO PRESENT

Presentation of Our Project to KA1 Coordinators in Higher Education

We were honored to be invited by the Slovenian National Agency to present our project at a meeting of all KA1 coordinators in Higher Education in Slovenia. Our project serves as an inspiring example of how Erasmus+ participants can actively address the "Green Erasmus" priority, showcasing the possibilities for sustainable preparation and engagement.

Presentation at the Transnational Peer Review for Quality in Education

The Slovenian Institute for VET has invited us to participate in a seminar focused on integrating sustainability in education and highlighting the benefits of international peer review for vocational training providers.

Round-Table Presentation at WindEurope in Brussels

We're excited to announce that our project has been invited to a round-table discussion hosted by WindEurope in Brussels! This event will together experts in vocational education and training (VET) programs from across Europe to discuss collaborative opportunities. During the session, we will present our project and explore Erasmus+ possibilities for future partnerships.

Stay connected with ENVIRASMUS

Explore sustainable living info and more at envirasmus.eu

Yours in sustainability,

The ENVIRASMUS Team